WEST GERMANS SEE IMPROVEMENTS IN EAST TIMOR Item: 142

By Kevin Cooney
JAKARTA, July 6, Reuter - Living conditions in East Timor have dramatically and this could lead to broader international recognition of Indonesia's claim to the troubled territory, visiting West German members of parliament said on Thursday.

"There has been astonishing progress overall, in the general appearance of the people, in the way they are clothed, in the infrastructure, in the condition of buildings," said Detlef Kleinert, a Free Democratic Party member who first visited East Timor in 1985.

Kleinert, with a seven-member Bundestag delegation touring Indonesia, told reporters the Jakarta government knew that "less pressure means less opposition" and this could improve the human-rights situation in East Timor.

Indonesia claimed sovereignty over the Portuguese colony and sent in its army in 1976. It has claimed success in putting down an independence struggle by Fretelin guerrillas although hundreds of fighters still roam in the hills of the impoverished region.

Western human rights groups have persistently accused Indonesia of acting brutally in taking control of East Timor and the United Nations still recognises Portugal as the administering power over the territory.

"If the improvements continue," Kleinert said, "the formal
